RECOLLECTIONS OF A LAZY LIFE.

(Concluded.)

"Two beats with but a single head,
Two cabbages with one."

Around us the frolicsome June buggayly waltzed and the cheerful hum of the musquito added pathos to the scene, while in the adjacent mill-pond the guileless bull-frog performed a select anthem to the parting day. Afar off in the western horizon the sun was setting which he did in his usual hunky style, without bursting any button off his trousers. Nothing disturbed the solemn stillness but the gentle heaving of her bosom, and the gentle heaving of a small boy who was smoking a cheroot in the woodshed. I was trying to imagine, with the pure affection of youth, how many stamps she had laid away, as she was engaged in heaving an elegant assortment of signs, varying from a small to a large size.

The ecstatic rapture which steeped my soul in bliss o'ercame me, and, seizing Matilda by her waterfall, I imprinted the pure kiss of betrothal behind her left ear.

She gazed at me in silent rapture, and, while the lovelight gleamed with dewy softness from those liquid orbs upraised to mine, he said:

"Skinner, have you taken a bath lately?" She continued: "You are an old fool. If you aint got spunk enough to bring this bile to a head, I have. Come set the day, my ethereal bloat, my festive, bald-headed minikin."

Thus with honeyed words of love, did we beguile the time.

We were married in church, my children as chief mourners occupying fronts. There were no cards, except a game of euchre, to see who should sleep in the front of the bed. We took a short bridal tour; she went to see her Aunt Abigail, and I came to Boston to buy a new set of type for the Trombone. It was about this time that all was so quiet on the Potomac; but that day Boston was in a fever of excitement, because it was hinted in official circles that the commanding general would move as soon as his rent became due, although he hated to leave Mason and Dixon's line. It was so handy to hang the clothes on washing days.

My second venture in the sea of matrimony has not been a success. Metaphorically speaking, my second plate of matrimonial hash has soured on my hands. On returning to my domicile in Slunkville, my wife addressed me in the following chaste language:

"Skinner, I am now boss of this shebang, and really hope, for your mother's sake, that I shan't be obliged to use the mop-handle over your head more than twice a day, and once Sundays."

Another eccentricity of hers is planting her feet in the small of my back after I have retired for the night, and whirling me playfully across the room. The first overture of this kind occurred one very cold morning, when I suggested the propriety of her getting up and building the fire. If my memory serves me right, and I think she do, I built the fire myself that A. M., and I have made it a point to do so ever since. If there is anything I doat on, it is rising with the lark and building the fire.

EMINENT AMERICAN SWEABISTS.

[Correspondent of the St. Louis Times.]

One evening last summer two men went aboard a Hudson river boat, bound for Albany. The first was a tall man, with gray hair, but vigorous for his age, the second was nearly as tall, but stouter, and also gray, and his peculiar slouching walk attracted a good deal of notice. The boat cast off and proceeded up the river, while most of the passengers sat on the upper deck, enjoying the cool air and admiring the beautiful sceneny of the Hudson.

Presently a loud voice, pouring out a torrent of expletives, was heard on the deck below. One of the boat hands had let something heavy fall on the toes of the tall, thin man, and he opened on that unfortunate menial. He cursed him to Jericho, and Halifax, and Jerusalem, and a place a good deal warmer than either, and called him more names than he could repeat in a week, and made the polysyllable oaths fly about so fast that the poor deck hand was completely demolished and obliged to retreat in wild confusion from the scene. At the same moment a man who had been leaning over one of the side rails began to swear. It was the same man that had gone aboard after the tall, thin one. He had taken off his hat, and was leaning over the rail in contemplative attitude and mod when some one on the upper deck dropped about a tablespoonful of tobacco spittle on his head. That started him. He shook his fists and stamped, and uttered volley after volley of rousing oaths, and startled the whole boat with his fury. The passengers were ready to acknowledge his superiority to the other man, when the deck hand turned up again. Then the man resumed operations. He damned that deck hand all over this world, and the lower part of the other one, and kept at it until the deck hand retreated again. In the meantime the man who had broken out about the tobacco spittle had subsided, and when quiet was restored, another deck hand asked one of the passengers who "them two fellers" were.

"One is Commodore Vanderbilt, and the other is Horace Greely."

"Well, I've bin along this 'ere river thirty year, and I've knowed fellers that could do pretty tall swearin', but I'm d——d if that skinny old chap ain't ahead of any one I've seed yet. The baby-faced feller ain't bad, but it ain't no use fur him to try when t'other one's around. Jimmy! ain't he a rouser?"

And the Commodore has been improving his opportunities ever since.

NOT WHAT I WANT NOW.

When Archbishop Secker was laid on his dying bed, his friend, Mr. Talbot, came to see him. He felt it was their last meeting together, so he said:

"You will pray with me, Talbot, before you go away?"

Mr. Talbot rose, and went to look for a Prayer Book.

"That is not what I want now," said the dying prelate; "kneel down by me, and pray for me in the way I know you are used to do."

So the good man knelt by his friend's bedside, and poured out his soul for him before his heavenly Father, in such words as his heart dictated. The Holy Spirit blessed them to the comfort of the dying man. There was a life and spirit in them that he could not find in forms, however, excellent.

When we come to that solemn hour, we shall want something more than a formal religion. It may have satisfied us very well before, but it will give us no light for the dark valley. God be merciful to me, a sinner," will have more meaning to us than a volume of the most "beautiful prayers," pronounced with the most faultless elocution.

A SHORT SERMON FOR PARENTS.

It is said that when the mother of Washington was asked how she had formed his character of her son, she replied that she had endeavored early to teach him three things—obedience, diligence, and truth. No better advice can be given to any parent. Teach your child to obey. Let it be the first lesson. You can hardly begin too soon. One of the most successful parents that I have known said that this point was usually settled between him and his children before they were three months old. But it requires constant care to keep up the habit of obedience: and especially to do it in such a way as not to be hurtful to the child's character. Teach your child to be diligent. The habit of being always employed is a great safeguard through life, as well as essential to the culture of almost any virtue. Nothing can be more foolish than the idea which some parents have, that it is not respectable to set their children to work. Play is a good thing. Innocent recreation is an enjoyment, and a child may learn to be diligent in that as well as in other things: but let him learn early to be useful. As to truth, it is the one essential thing. Let everything else be sacrificed rather than that. Without it what dependence can you place in your child. And be sure to do nothing yourself which may countenance any species of prevarication or falsehood. Yet how many parents do teach their children the first lesson of deception!

Boston has a philanthropist who visits the prisons. Said he to a prisoner: "Most of your friends think your sentence was excessive; nothing like it was ever known." "Yes, I suppose so," was the prisoner's reply; "but then, you know, everything's gone up since the war."

Dr. Blacknall, the hotellist in Ridgeway, has decided not to charge northern visitors to look at the country but two dollars a day. Regular fare is three dollars.

☞ The Danville Register says that old inhabitants accustomed to watch the signs of the weather assert that a heavy persimmon crop this season forebodes a severe winter.

THE MESSAGE.

The message of Gov. Holden we design publishing extracts from. It is an able and interesting document, and is tempered with moderation and good sense.

☞ It was said that attorney Genl. Bear had come out in favor of a contraction of the currency, but Mr. Boutwell will oppose any contraction of the amount of the currency, and he will be sustained by a majority of Congress.

☞ The Colt with but two fore legs—no hind ones—and that was on exhibition at the fair in Richmond—lately died at the fair in Wilmington. It was 7½ months old. The skeleton of the colt will be sent to the Smithsonian Institute at Washington.

☞ Wolves have made their appearance near Sassafras Fork in Granville county and are making night hideous with their howling. They have already destroyed some four or five hundred dollars worth of property. So says the Ridgeway Press.

☞ Mr. Hodnett, of Caswell, has introduced a bill into the Legislature to repeal the tax on tobacco. If there be a preponderance of good sense in this Legislature Mr. Hodnett will get his bill through. But as yet there are grave doubts as to the sanity of the biggest half.

☞ Senator Welker of Guilford has introduced a bill to allow the directors of railroads the privilege to widen the guage of their roads. The most zealous friends of the N. C. R. Road are intensely against this bill. They think they see in it the death of the Carolina Central—time will prove.

OLD HORSES AND POLITICS.

Great men have had much more foolish sayings canonized than that of an old negro man the other day who gave his opinion about politics thusly: "Master, I's done wid old hosses and politics. De fust dies on my hands after I bize 'em; and de 'tudder's done dead a fo I gits 'em." You are mighty right, Uncle. We wish that a great many white folks were of your way of ☞ Hard work will tell.

But ten months ago this old and time honored journal passed into its present hands.

To-day we thank our people for their honest and hearty support.

To-morrow—maybe next week—maybe next year—we design enlarging—maybe running a semi-weekly—who knows? We wish in a short time to get a new set of job and newspaper type. In addition it is our desire to employ a first class reporter who will be in attendance at the Legislature and all other places where our people have any interest.

We are going to run a newspaper.

We are going to run the best newspaper in the South. This is our boast (that of a puny man) and may God help us to carry it out.

The path lies before our eyes. We have been walking in it. We are going to plum it—if we can. It is hedged on both sides with the briars and thorns of prejudice and political hate and abuse—but if we can keep straight on it will eventually lead into the green fields where plenty drops her fatness, and where "peace hath her victories no less renowned than war." We are "marching on."

A CHRISTIAN BOY.

"What is the use of being in the world unless you are somebody?" said a boy to his friend.

"Sure enough, and I mean to be," answered the other. "I began this very day. I mean to be somebody."

Ashton looked George in the face. "Began to day? how? What do you mean to be?"

"A Christian boy? and so grow up to be a christian man," said George. "I believe that is the greatest 'somebody' for us to be."

"George is right. There is no higher manhood than Christian manhood; and it is in the power of every boy to reach that. Every boy cannot be rich; every boy cannot be President; every boy cannot be Judge; but every boy can be a Christian boy, and grow up a Christian man; and that is what God asks you to be. He asks you to be His sons, and so, with His Son Jesus Christ, to be heirs of the kingdom of heaven.

A Trenton (N. J.) paper knows of an enterprising colored man who devised a petition addressed to the Common Council of that city, asking for an enlargement of the schoolhouse for colored children. It occurred to him that the signatures of certain white fathers might be serviceable, and he applied for and obtained a large number. Just where the laugh comes in is, the petition commences, "We, the parents of colored children," &c. Wasn't it horrid?

HIGHLY CONCENTRATED COMPOUND FLUID EXTRACT OF KOSKOO!

The Great Health Restorer!
Not a Quack Medicine—Formula around the Bottle.
Prepd Solely by
J. J. LAWRENCE, M. D.
Onic Chemist,
Norfolk, Va.

☞ Beware Counterfeits. See that Dr. J. J. Lawrence, Chemist, Norfolk, Va. and the word Koskoo, is blown on the glass of each bottle.☜

Koskoo is endorsed by the best physicians everywhere. And the following from Dr. Tillery, a succesful practitioner of many years standing the Old North State:

Rocky Mount, Edgecombe Co Sept 10, 1869.

Dr. J J Lawrence—Dear Sir: I have used your Concentrated Fluid Extract of Koskoo in my praice with the happiest results. I find it to be a powerful Liver Invigorator Blood purifier and Nervous Tonic. In all diseases of the Liver, Scrofulous Syphilitic, Nervous Affections, it is a remedy of immense value in fact, in almost every variety of Chronic Disease its use is indicated. Hoping you may meet with the success which you deserve as a manufacturer of reliable medicine, I am sir, with much respect, your obedient servant,

R. C. TILLERY, M. D.

From Dr. Fentress, an accomplished and experienced physician.

Princess Anne Court House, Va. Sept 13, 1869.

J. J. Lawrence, M. D.—Dear Sir: I have carefully examined the formula, as well as the Therapeutic properties of your Koskoo compound, and have prescribed it in some stubborn cases of Chronic Liver Affections Dyspepsia, General Debility, &c., and always with the most gratifying results. I find it to be a powerful Tonic Alterative, and Hepatic combination, accomplishing its constitutional effects without the slightest debility; in fact it gives fine support to the General system while its alternative effects are being produced. I cheerfully recommend its use to the public. Yours, truly;

T. J. FENTRESS, M. D.

Koskoo cures Scrofula in its worst Forms.

From Mr. A. W. Mills, a prominent and well known merchant of Norfolk, Va.

No 11, Main St., Norfolk, Va., Sept. 15, 1869.

Dr. Lawrence—Dear Sir: Your Koskoo has worked wonders in my family. My daughter has been a sufferer from Scrofula since childhood. She lost thirty-one pieces of bone from her ankle, several from her arm, besides having sores in several parts of her body. While in this condition she commenced taking your Koskoo—it acted like a charm on her—under its use the ulcers gradually healed, and her general health greatly improved. It certainly saved her much suffering, and perhaps her life. I regard Koskoo specific for all scrofulous affections. Your Koskoo also cured my wife of dyspepsia from which she suffered greatly. She is now in better health than she has been in five years.

With the highest regards, I am gratefully yours &c.,

A W MILLS.

Koskoo, the Great Invigorator—Read the following from the Rev. Joseph E. Martin, paster of Wesley Chapel, Portsmouth, Va.:

"This is to certify that myself and wife have used Dr. Lawrence's Koskoo, and can testify to its beneficial effects. Previous to taking it we were in a condition of debilitation—had no appetite, and suffered from sudden and often violent attacks of headache and nervousness. Two bottles of Koskoo has improved our general health, and we regard it as invaluable, and most cheerfully recommend it to all who have need of an invigorator. Yours, &c.

JOSEPH E. MARTIN.

KOSKOO!

Cures Chronic Rheumatism.

Norfolk Va. September 7, 1869.

Dr J J Lawrence—Dear Sir: My son has received so much benefit from your wonderful Koskoo that I cannot refrain from expressing my gratitude. I had tried almost everything without benefit. I believe, in all sincerity, that your Koskoo is an Infallible Remedy for the disease from which he has suffered, and, so far as I can learn, has never failed. If you only knew the immense amount of suffering that he has undergone, then you could conceive the value of such a remedy as Koskoo—that surely cures. The great amount of good it is now doing among us is inestimable.

With much gratitude, I am respectfully yours, &c. Mrs M E A NELSON.

Dr. Lawrence—Dear Sir: Having been treated by several skilful physicians for Dyspepsia, Chronic Disease of Kidneys, General Debility, &c., without benefit, as a last resort I commenced the use of your Koskoo, and am pleased to say that under its use my health has been entirely restored.

I am, sir, with much respect your obedient servant, O B MEARS.

No 5 Market St. Norfolk, Va. July 1869.

Pacific, Franklin Co N C, Sept 1869.

This is to certify that for a long time I suffered very much from inaction of the liver and constipation of the bowels and tried several remedies, but received no benefit until I commenced taking Koskoo. I took the medicine about one month, and I was completely cured and have remained well. I know of several cures made by Koskoo, and can cordially recommend it as a good medicine. JOHN H BAKER.

From Mr. Womble, a prominent hardware merchant of Norfolk, Virginia.

Dr. Lawrence—Dear Sir: To the large number of testimonials which you offer of the great efficacy of your Koskoo, I take pleasure in adding my own. I suffered greatly with Nervous Debility, Headache, Loss of Appetite, &c. Two bottles of Koskoo restured me to health. Yours,

J. G. WOMBLE.

From Rev. W H Christian, Pastor Dinwiddie St. Methodist Church:

Portsmouth, Va. Oct. 25, 1869.

This is to certify that I know Dr. Lawrence well. He is a gentleman of cultivation, and worthy the fullest confidence. I have used his "Koskoo" with advantage to myself, and have adopted its use in my family in cases of nervous debility and depression. W. H. CHRISTIAN.

Squire Jimmie Jones of Caswell county owed the estate of John Lee a security debt of some two hundred dollars for Stephens—the sheriff from Caswell. The other day the squire sent a wagon load of tobacco with his two fine mares to Danville. But the wagon had been traded to a fisherman of that town and the wagon and fine mares were attached for the debt. He was allowed to hold the tobacco.

Good tobacco.

From what can be seen around the Milton section and over the line at Slingg[ers] (Va.) the planters who have made tobacco at all—have made it very fine. Giles Mebane near Milton said to have made a splendid crop of the largest.

Good Thing.

A prominent merchant of Richmond informs us that it is the intention of the banks that the late Va Fair brought ... hundred and seventy thousand dollars ... city. Such fairs do that pay.

A LIE STICKS.

A little newsboy, to sell his paper, told a lie. The matter came up in the Sabbath School. Would you tell a lie for three cents? asked a teacher of one of the boys.

"No ma'am," answered Dick very decidedly.

"For ten cents?"

"No ma'am."

"For a thousand dollars?"

Dick was staggered. A thousand dollars looked big. O, would it not buy lots of things? While he was thinking, another boy roared out no "ma'am!" right behind him.

"Why not?" asked the teacher.

"Because, when the thousand dollars is all gone, and all the things they've got with 'em are gone, up; the lie is there all the time," answered the boy.

That is so. A lie is a lie. Everything else may be gone, but that lives, and you have to carry it round with you, whether you will or not; a hard heavy load to bear.

A Sad Death.

Dr. Waring a ... physician in Richmond, has lately died. So ... this gentleman been to the poor of that city ... crowded around his dead body and made the air with their lamentations. HOW HOSTETTER'S BITTERS CURE DYSPEPSIA.

THE WHOLE STORY IN A NUTSHELL.

The office of the stomach is to convert the food into a cream-like semi-fluid, called CHYME. This is effected partly by the action of a solvent, called the gastric juice, which exudes from the coating of the stomach, and partly by a mechanical movement of that organ, which churns, as it were, the dissolving aliment. The CHYME passes from the stomach into the duodenum, or entrance to the bowels, where it is subjected to the action of the bile, and the nutritious portion of it converted into a fluid called Chyle, which eventually becomes blood.

Now, it is evident that if the great solvent, the gastric juice, is not produced in sufficient quantity, or if the mechanical action of the stomach is not sufficiently brisk, the first process of digestion will be but imperfectly performed. It is also clear that if the liver, which plays such an important part in changing the nourishing portion of the chyme into the material blood, is congested, or in any unnatural condition, the second process will not be thoroughly accomplished. The result of the two failures is dyspepsia complicated with biliousness.

The mode in which HOSTETTER'S BITTERS operate in such cases is this: they invigorate the cellular membrane of the stomach, which evolves the gastric juice, thereby insuring an ample sufficiency of the fluid to completely dissolve the food. They also act upon the nerves of the stomach, causing an acceleration of the mechanical movement necessary to reduce the food to a homogeneous mass. They also act specifically upon the liver, strengthening it, and so enabling it to produce an ample and regular supply of bile, for the purpose of converting the nutritious particles of the Chyme into Chyle, and promote the passage through the bowels of the useless debris.

In this way, HOSTETTER'S BBTTERS cure dyspepsia and liver complaint. The explanation is plain, simple, philosophical, and true.

Farm Yard Scraps.

A bit of glue dissolved in skim milk will restore crape.

Strong ley put in water will make it as soft as rain water.

Half a cranberry, is is said, bound on a corn will soon kill it.

Ribbons of every kind should be washed in suds and not rinsed.

Scotch snuff put in holes where crickets come out will destroy them.

If your flat irons are rough, rub them with fine salt and it will make them smooth.

If you to avoid a cold, keep your mouth shut. The same plan also keeps the teeth from getting sunburnt and people from noticing them if they are.

Good fences, bars and gates, save much time, prevent trespass, and consequent ill will among neighbors.

There has been a great dispute at the South whether farm yard dung should be applied for wheat directly in the autumn, or whether it should be applied upon grasses. Many advocate the putting of it on the clover at mid summer; and in almost all cases where it has been so tried it has produced a good effect. Instead of applying it for wheat, in ordinary cases, when the wheat is about to be sown, or on the clover in midsummer, d apply it in the autumn or spring before, upon the clover. The result of pursuing that course is this: You give the clover a thoroughly good dressing, so as to enable them to grow with much greater rapidity, and to a much greater volume; you have a far greater amount of roots produced in the soil; and the wheat derives a greater benefit from those roots, in the shape of manure, than if you applied the manure at mid summer, or when you plough up the land in the autumn. Wherever this plan has been tried—and it has been tried in many places—it has been found efficacious. Experiments have been made, distinctly showing that it is better to apply farm-yard dung to green than to corn crops.

Prof. Nesbitt. in American.

For a man who is thoroughly in earnest, farming offers a grand field for effort; but the man who is only half in earnest, who thinks that costly barns, imported stock and a nicely rolled lawn, are the great objects of attainment, may accomplish pretty results, but they will be small ones. So the dilettante farmer, who has a smattering of science, whose head is filled with nostrums, who thinks his salts will do it all, who doses his crops now to feebleness and now to an unnatural exuberance, who dawdles over his fermentations while the neighbors' oxen are breaking into his [illegible] with no managing capacity, no breadth of vision, who sends two men to accomplish the work of one—let such a man give up all hope of making farming a lucrative pursuit. But if a man, as we said, be thoroughly in earnest; if he have the sagacity to see all over his farm; to systematize his labor, to carry out his plans punctually and thoroughly; if he is not above economies, nor heedless of the teachings of science, nor unobservant of progress elsewhere, nor neglectful of such opportunities as where the Yale Agricultural Lectures—let them work, for he will have his reward. But even such an one will never come to his four-in-hand, except they be colts of his own raising; or to private concerts in his own grounds, except what birds make.—D. G. Mitchell.

Mrs. A. K. Bailey, editress of the Decorah (Iowa) Republican, apologizes for the detention of her paper, "because of the late arrival of an extra male."

An Iowa editor solemnly avows that he will not support a man for Representative "who is a whisky barrel in the morning and a barrel of whisky at night."

A Miss Lucy Lee advertises in a Mississippi paper that she "is of good birth and education, and is willing to marry an editor believing herself able to support one.

An Alabama editor, in puffing a grocery kept by a woman, says: "Her tomatoes are as red as her own cheeks, her indigo as blue as her own eyes, and her pepper as hot as her own temper.

A man met with an accident recently in Maine, whereupon the newspaper said: "Millers' skull was badly fractured and survived only twenty four hours in an unconscious condition."

An English correspondent of a Western paper viewed the boat race through an opera glass, which he said, was so good, "that you could hear the Oxford coxswain as he pressed his men to their work."

Tampa, Florida, thinks herself a first class port. The Tampa Peninsular recently published the following heavy list of "exports:" "per Lavaca, for New Orleans, two barrels potatoes, one coop fowls, one box gophers."

A cord was hung out of a little oyster shop in Sandusky City, Ohio, while the State Sabbath School Convention was in session in that place, which reads: "Oisters in every stile, coked to order. Frends of the redeemer will plese caul."

Fanny Fern says: "If one half the girls knew the previous lives of the men they marry, the list of old maids would be wonderfully increased." Whereupon the Boston Post asks, "If the men knew what their future lives were to be, wouldn't it increase the list of old maids still further?"

BALLARD HOTEL.
RICHMOND, VA.

THE subscriber begs leave to announce to the TRAVELING PUBLIC, as well as to City Boarders, that this elegant establishment has recently undergone many desirable changes and improvements, and has been thoroughly repaired and painted. The Building is one of the best in the City, and for convenience and beauty of arrangement is acknowledged to be superior. Its Furniture is new and of the very best.

The BAR is handsomely fitted up, and supplied with the finest liquors.

The BILLIARD ROOM adjoins the Bar, and has five full size "Phelan" tables in complete order.

The TABLE is the very best in the country, having engaged the services of one of the best of caterers; and his cook, Monsieur Valmont, from the celebrated Restaurants "Vefour" and "Durand," Paris, is one of the best in the world.

With the corps of efficient and polite clerks, and obedient servants, every effort will be made to please.

His Charges are Moderate, and will be governed by those of similar first class Hotels in other cities.

He asks the patronage of his friends and the public.

PLANTATION BITTERS.

This wonderful vegetable restorative is the sheet-anchor of the feeble and debilitated. As a tonic and cordial for the aged and languid it has no equal among stomachics. As a remedy for the nervous weakness to which women are especially subject, it is superseding every other stimulant. In all climates, tropical, temperate or frigid, it acts as a specific in every species of disorder which undermines the bodily strength and breaks down the animal spirits.

Wherever it is introduced it becomes a standard article—a medicinal staple. It is to-day the best and purest tonic, and the most popular medicine in the civilized world—be sure and get the genuine. Sold by all Druggists, Grocers and Country Stores.
